

C o m p a s s

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY

JOAN C. LUKSIK

Research Director

Joan Luksik provides global industry and company research for Compass Group. Her professional background includes experience in several industries including staffing and human resources, computer systems and healthcare. Her research experience includes industry, organization, and product level research and analysis, as well as competitive compensation research.

Joan is responsible for the Compass Group Research Center, comprised of print and non-print sources including conference and industry reports, database subscriptions and directories. A primary resource is the extensive proprietary in-house Compass Group database.

Prior to joining Compass Group, Joan held positions involving competitive intelligence, research and analysis, and library administration, most recently for sixteen years as Manager, Market Intelligence/Competitive Analysis at Kelly Services World Headquarters in Troy, MI. Prior to joining Kelly, Joan served as Manager, Corporate Information Research for Unisys Corporation.

Joan holds a Bachelor of Science in biology and chemistry, and a Master of Science in Library Science (MSLS), both from Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan.

Joan participates in conferences and meetings of the Society for Competitive Intelligence Professionals, the Special Library Association, and other research events.